Battleship Docks at Boston
With Contingent of New England War Heroes

Enthusiastically Welcomed
by State and City Committees—Those on Board

BOSTON, March 10.—The battleship
Nebraska from Crest, France, with 1100 returning soldiers, docked here
today, the first warship-transport to enter this port. A majority of her passengers were New England men in casual companies.

The Nebraska anchored in President
Roosevelt's harbor after a rough passage of 12 days.

A large flotilla of harbor vessels escorted her to a berth at Commonwealth
pier, where the troops were serenaded
by a naval band, enthusiastically welcomed by state and city official greeting committees and served with refreshments by war work welfare organizations.

With the exception of nine stretcher
cases, which were taken immediately
to the Parker Hill hospital, the soldiers entrained for Camp Devens shortly after they landed. With them were 12 Y.M.C.A. secretaries, who served in France.

The returned units included Battery
P, 31st Artillery, 10 officers and 250
men; casual companies 340 and 955,
with four officers and 272 men of the
regular army; casual company 273,
with one officer and 52 men of the United States Marine corps; casual companies 911, 917, 371 and 381 with nine
officers and 417 men from Massachusetts;
casual company 278 with 20 men
from various parts of the country and evacuation ambulance No. 3 with four officers and 10 men.

After discharging the troops, the Nebraska was ordered into drydock at
the Charlestown navy yard for slight
repairs.

THE SUPERIOR CRIMINAL COURT OPENS

The parallel cases of Joseph Ma-
choz and Felix Gagneau, charged with breaking and entering and larceny on
Feb. 17 last at the summer camps of Fred S. Kinsbury, Samuel Greathead
and Henry A. Turcotte, situated on the Merrimack river in Tyngsboro, were
the only ones to be called at the criminal session of the superior criminal
court held in Lowell this morning. No
sentence had been returned at 2.30 o'clock.

Practically all of the cases which
came before Judge Dubuque at the
morning session, which terminated at 1 o'clock, were of a minor nature.

The court convened at 10 o'clock
with Judge Dubuque on the bench.
Jurors answered to the roll call, and
Rev. N. W. Matthews pronounced the Invocation. Through agreement by the commonwealth and defendant's counsel the case of Joseph Cordio and Francisco Peck, indicted for the murder of Fred Souza at Billerica on October 21, 1918, was postponed for three weeks.

Arthur A. Smith, charged with carrying a pistol without proper authority, paid a fine of $25 and the case
was placed on file.

Charles J. Fabeli, charged with disorderly conduct, pleaded nolo, and
his case was placed on file, on recommendation of Edmund Welch, superintendent of local police.

Haralambos Dantis, charged with conducting a gaming nuisance, paid a $50 fine.

The case of Herbie Domes, charged
with gaming, was placed on file.

The case of Louis Tascaria, charged with polygamy, was held over until
next Monday at East Cambridge.

James Koutsibiras, charged with

CHARGED WITH RINGING
FALSE ALARM

Henry J. Plante, aged 14 years, who claims he is a transier by occupation, was arrested Saturday night on
a charge of ringing in a false fire
alarm. It is claimed that while going through Thorndike street shortly before 9 o'clock Saturday night, Plante
"stumped" his friend, a boy named Connors to ring in a fire alarm from box 218. Connors admitted he did not have the nerve to go through the stunt
and it was then, so it is claimed, that Plante pulled in the alarm. The boy
was later pointed out by a woman and
held by a man until the police officers
arrived.

60 Officers and Soldiers in Lychenberg Station Were Murdered

Hundreds Killed and Wounded in Fighting—Many
Hurled Into River

AMSTERDAM, March 1.—Spartan
forces yesterday occupied the Berlin
suburb of Lychenberg and murdered 60 officers and soldiers in the police station, according to the Zeitung Am Mittag. The police station had withstood Spartan attacks since Tuesday.

MANY KILLED AT HALLE, GERMANY

LONDON, Sunday, March 9.—Many
were killed and wounded in fighting
at Halle, Germany, on Saturday, according to Copenhagen despatches to the Central News. Spartans drowned
many students and officers in the river,
and there was general pillage. Government troops eventually gained the mastery.

A German wireless despatch received
here, gives a semi-official report of recent happenings at Berlin. Fighting
lasted from 10 o'clock Wednesday night,
when the mutineers opened fire with
field guns and mine throwers on police
headquarters, until late Friday night.
There were isolated encounters even
as late as Saturday morning. The despatch adds that even if final resistance has not yet completely broken down, the crisis may be regarded as safely passed.

THE battery consists of 177 men

Every soldier in the American Expeditionary Forces has been given a postal card by command of Gen. Pershing and ordered to fill it out and mail
it home. Some of the cards have already arrived in Lowell, dated the middle of February, some on Valentine's
day. Although they were not intended
by Gen. Pershing as that kind of a sentimental token. The card is printed as a form, with spaces for the date,
the "Dear mother" or "dear" somebody
else; for the name of the place where
the writer is stationed, the designation
of his unit, the state of his health,

Great Britain Yields on Ships Will Consent to Sink Her Allotment of Hun Boats

Change of Attitude Will Relieve U. S. of Necessity of Carrying Out Big Naval Building Program—If England Kept Ships, U. S. Would Be Forced To Spend Billion Dollars To Maintain Place in List

PARIS, March 10.—A change in
the attitude of the British government regarding the plan to sink interned German warships has been noticed since the return of Premier Lloyd George to Paris. It now appears probable that Great Britain will
be willing to permit France and Italy
to keep some of the ships, but will
consent to sink her own allotment.
In this way, it is said, Great Britain would relieve the United States of the necessity of carrying

out her projected great naval building program, which, it is understood,
was based on the intention to prevent
any one nation from having such a predominant navy as would give her
control of the seas against the power of the league of nations.
The addition of a limited number
of German warships to the French and Italian navies would not un-sensibly disturb the present balance of naval power, excluding Austria and Germany.

The desire of American naval experts that the German ships be eliminated completely, it is said, is based
on considerations of economy, as
they hold that if the ships are given
to Great Britain in the proportion
proposed, the United States would be
compelled to spend one billion dollars
to maintain her place in the naval
lists.

WORCESTER EXPLOSION

Barrel of Naphtha Blew Up
—One Killed and Four Badly Injured

WORCESTER, March 10.—One man was killed and four badly injured here
today when a barrel of naphtha exploded in a building at the plant of the Baldwin Chain & Manufacturing Co.
on Chandler street. The dead man is Charles W. Berthiaume, 50 years of age, a steamfitter for the M. D. Holmes & Sons Co.
The injured are:
Edward McGowan, Leicester, 20 years old, helper; Philip Minca, aged 52, Archibald McLean, aged 47, and William Jauner. All were badly burned by the blazing fluid and taken to city hospital.
The property loss is estimated at $10-000.

CROWD RESENTS SLUR ON PRES. WILSON

NEW YORK, March 10.—The Rev. Dr.
George A. Shinn, a Methodist missionary, who was stationed in Russia for 11 years and who appeared as a witness before the senate committee investigating propaganda, started a tempest
when he declared in an address at the Central Y.M.C.A. in Brooklyn yesterday, that President Wilson was "playing into the hands of the hearers of the red flag."

Instantly there were cries of "that is treason" and "throw him out" but a squad of police and three patrolmen saved the speaker from rough handling by persons in the audience of 700 who heard his assertion.

Three soldiers in uniform demanded that Dr. Shinn apologize. He responded by saying he believed President Wilson "as fine a Christian gentleman as we have in America." Later a Y.M.C.A. secretary apologized in behalf of the organization for the remarks of the missionary.

HELP IRELAND

Irish Officers Who Served in British Army During War
Send Petition

Pray That Home Rule Be Submitted to Peace Conference in Paris

LONDON, March 10.—A petition has
been submitted to King George, signed
by a number of Irish officers who served in the British army during
the war, praying that Irish home rule
be submitted to the peace conference.

Among the signers are Major General Sir William B. Hickie, commander
of the 15th Irish Division in France;
Brigadier General Dayrell T. Hammond, Colonel Sir Henry C. Gratton-Bellew, descendant of the famous Irish statesman, Henry Gratton; Colonel Sir Thomas C. Miles, Stephen L. Gwynn,
formerly member of the house of commons for Galway; Captain Henry,
nephew of Timothy M. Healy; Sir
Thomas H. G. Esmonde, on behalf of a son killed in the battle of Jutland
and Mrs. William H. K. Redmond and Mrs. Thomas M. Keble, on behalf of their husbands, who were killed in
the war.

The petition claims that 200,000 men
in Ireland and an equal number of Irish from Great Britain's overseas
dominions volunteered for service in
the war, and now "when the survivors
return home, notwithstanding the fact that the home rule act was a
great Irish national demand, they
find the situation worse than ever,
and, therefore, pray the king to submit the issue to the peace conference in Paris."

dle of February, some on Valentine's
day. Although they were not intended
sentimental token. The card is print-

the "Dear mother" or "dear" somebody
else; for the name of the place where
the writer is stationed, the designation
of his unit, the state of his health,
at the bottom of the card states: "This present location, organization, and condition of health, under the provisions of

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come later.

H. P. KETTER THEATRE
Quite the most distinctive character singer in vaudeville is Lillian Shaw, who will be at the head of the bill at the H. P. Ketter Theatre, this week. Her specialty is Italian-American dialect songs, and no one in the business today turns over more complete characterizations than does "the one of her best songs is 'Gotta Be Rival' and it has not only a melody, but it tells the story of the young mother in a vein that is full of quiet, homespun humor. She also does a Hebrew character, which is as perfect as any little personation of this kind can be.

"Love, Honor and Obedience" is the name of a sketch which William H. Macary and Edithene Beadford will present. It is a reversal of the usual situation in which the woman makes the vows. In this the man promises, and he is held to them by his energetic spouse.

THE THREE EDIES are pantomime comedians who are of the French school and who, a few years ago, were the funny policemen in all of the Keystone Chaplin pictures. These performers have much of merit to offer. They speak not a word and their pantomime work is of the highest order.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—The substitute for calomel—is a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 20c and 25c a box. All druggists.

But it is mighty hard work, once in a while for this husband to live up to it. He said he would, Mr. Macary.

The Curzon sisters are internationally famous as the greatest of maxillary artists. They are frequently billed as the flying butterflies, and this is because, while they are dancing, they are singing and playing the piano and the violin. The girls are pretty and they are daintily clad. The girls are great hits wherever they appear, and are bound to add things of interest to the bill.

Linton and Lawrence are regulars. They are no mere tyros at the theatrical game. They are singers and dancers and makers of comedy that is funny. They have had varied experience, having at one time or another been associated with men and women who are scored heavily in many lines of work.

Miss Ostriche is well known as the Moxie Girl, her picture being selected from many as the one to be used by the Moxie concern in their campaign of advertising. The Patrons of The Strand will recall with a degree of pleasure the many highly successful screen plays in which Miss Ostriche has appeared on the local program and the opportunity of seeing the same clever actress in real life—as well as real life—will no doubt prove unusually interesting to all. Be sure and attend either the afternoon or night performances on Tuesday and meet her. She is particularly anxious to exchange greetings with all, particularly the young women and girls.

THE STRAND

Geraldine in the environments of Alaska—and a dance hall at that—is not the easiest thing to imagine. Yet not one of her admirers doubts that she will acquire herself as well, dramatically, there, as in a drawing room or on the desert. She will show them in "Shadows," the Goldwyn release, at The Strand, beginning with matinee today.

Kitty Gordon, in her latest World Pictures release, "The Unveiling Hand," will be the other big feature on the bill. This, too, gives the star exceptional opportunity to display an extensive wardrobe and unusual emotional endeavor.

Miss Cleopatra, the local vocal, will be the soloist for the week, and other features will include an excellent comedy, A Universal Weekly and a Chester Oling.

Tomorrow afternoon and night Muriel Ostriche, the motion picture star, known as the Moxie Girl, will appear in person at The Strand and after the performances will hold a reception in the lobby of the theatre. All patrons are cordially invited to attend and exchange personal greetings with this charming young star.

MURIEL OSTRICHE AT THE STRAND THEATRE TOMORROW AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

Muriel Ostriche, the famous screen star and Moxie Girl, noted for her beauty and talents, will appear in person at The Strand tomorrow afternoon and night. She will be accompanied on her trip to the Spindie City by Miss Krah, the great scenario writer, and the pair expect to meet the large majority of representative motion picture patrons of the city. According to present schedule, Miss Ostriche will reach Lowell late in the forenoon and will lunch down town, and then go to the theatre where she will give a short talk on the art of motion picture making. After the performance she will hold a reception in the lobby of the theatre and all patrons are cordially invited to remain to meet the star. She said on her last visit here that one of the most satisfying evidences of appreciation of a star's efforts to please on the screen was to see them rub elbows with them and exchange personal greetings. In this way the actor or actress can sometimes get the pulse of the theatre.

BUY YOUR CAR IN LOWELL

The Boston Auto Show opens March 15. It is held at the Faneuil Hall and is well known as the "All New England Show" for all of this territory. Thousands of Lowell men and women will journey to attend this great show.

Now is the time for Lowell motor car and truck dealers to advertise in The Sun. This is the time for them to get their name in the minds of the car buyers and their place in the business. The Sun is the only paper in Lowell that reaches the eyes of the car buyers.

Why? Here's why: A certain proportion of these readers will attend the show in Boston. For less than one cent of the cost of the show, the Lowell dealer should get his name in the minds of the car buyers.

Go to Boston and see all the cars and trucks on exhibition. Compare prices and values. But don't forget this point, every car and truck seen at Mechanics Hall, Boston, can be bought in Lowell through a Lowell dealer.

Why buy your car or truck in Lowell? Because if you buy it in Lowell you won't have to go to Boston to look about it. To find out what's wrong with it, to get it repaired, to buy spare parts for it. In other words, when you buy a car or a truck in Lowell, you buy value plus the service to which you are entitled as the owner of that car and you have access to that service 265 days in the year.

Here is a fair, square, honest argument. Advertise your line—your car—in The Sun, right now. Insure yourself against Lowell people coming to Boston to buy cars. Remember, The Sun will come to you and explain all you want to know. Don't let Lowell orders get away from you. Put your ad in

THE G.O.P. ISSUE

Chairman Hayes of the republican national committee, has sounded the keynote of the republican campaign which is to be a stand for standpat, isolated and supreme nationalism for the United States. This is but the League of Peace issue put in another form. The implication is, that President Wilson is working for internationalism rather than for the direct interests of the United States. It gives out the veiled charge that President Wilson is working against the best interests of this nation.

Chairman Hayes will have very great difficulty in convincing the people that there is any good reason for projecting such a movement against the League of Peace which is above all party issues.

As we have repeatedly remarked, the republicans for the past year have been going up and down this country looking for campaign issues. They attacked the administration from a thousand different angles, but in every case their attacks being largely unjustified, fell flat and were abandoned.

Undoubtedly, the leaders look to this new issue with considerable confidence, as already their leaders are lining up against the League of Nations so far as President Wilson has anything to do with it. They would have little criticism to offer if the British plan for a League of Peace were adopted by the American delegation dissociated from President Wilson.

Senator Lodge, now the republican leader, Senator Knox and Senator Penrose, of course, together with that blatant, braggar and foul-mouthed swashbuckler from Chicago—the man who dishonors the good old name of Sherman—are all in accord on this issue so that the prospect of its being fought to a finish amounts almost to a certainty.

The democratic leaders are quite willing to meet the republicans on this issue and are confident that the public sentiment in support of the League of Nations, as now proposed or even in a modified form, will sweep aside all republican opposition. The republican leaders will have to back down and retreat.

The demand not only in this country but throughout the world for a League of Peace is so strong that the republicans, in attempting to block its adoption here will put themselves much in the same attitude as did Dame Partington in trying to stop the Atlantic tide with a mop.

START SOMETHING

The time has arrived when the city government should do something to provide work for a considerable number of those who are idle, and particularly for the soldiers who are walking the streets unable to find employment.

The vote to borrow $100,000 for block paving was supposed to be a step in the direction of helping the labor situation. We do not think that block paving will help more than a very limited number of men. In fact, there are only three or four block pavers in Lowell and as for the cutting of the blocks, the work is done outside the city.

If the city is to borrow $100,000 for the purpose of affording employment for those who need it, we believe the money should be expended in a less exclusive way. We believe that Mayor Thompson is right when he recommends that the vote to borrow $100,000 for paving should be rescinded. A smaller amount, say one-fourth of the sum, can be borrowed and perhaps used to advantage. It seems that under present conditions, loans for building and other construction work will be more serviceable to the city and more helpful to the unemployed than those for paving which is necessarily confined to a very small number of men.

The local labor situation demands prompt and vigorous action on the part of the city government in order that building or other operations may be started as soon as possible. There is a great deal of talk about school buildings and there is undoubted need of several new school buildings. We venture the prediction, however, that when the building season arrives, the school board and the building department will be still haggling over plans and sites or where the work should be started first.

What is needed now is prompt and practical business methods that will get things moving without a waste of weeks and months in bootless talk about what is needed and what ought to be done.

What the present situation demands is men who will do things rather than talk about them. It is time to start something, gentlemen.

RECKLESS JITTERS

Some of the jitney drivers between this city and Lawrence, remember we do not say all of them—show disregard of the safety of their passengers when they hug the left side of a sharp and dangerous curve, where they cannot see much more than three lengths of their machine ahead.

It is such a case, another auto were met coming in the opposite direction and keeping to the right, as it should according to the rules of the road and the plain dictates of safety, a head-on collision would be inevitable. When a passenger who wishes to avoid danger rides once behind such a driver, he is not likely to do so again. That kind of driving has caused several serious accidents already at the sharp curves on the Lawrence road, and it will cause more if the drivers persist in this reckless habit.

COTTON SUPPLY

The United States will need large supplies of cotton this year and next. France and other countries will also require more than the normal quantity of pre-war days. In face of this situation, the decision of the southern cotton farmers to hold their present crop until the price goes to 30 cents, and to reduce their 1919 cotton acreage by one-third, would be a most unwise proceeding. It would be a par with burning the surplus crop to limit the supply and keep up prices, an expedient said to have been resorted to or threatened a few years ago. The adoption of the curtailment policy would seem to be a combination to control prices for which the Sherman anti-trust law provides a remedy.

BUSINESS SITUATION

In the following extract from the weekly letter of Henry Clews of New York, that writer presents the important phases of the industrial situation in a manner calculated to impress upon all the necessity of calmness and co-operation during this period of reconstruction. His view as here expressed comes very

In merchandise circles there is still more or less hesitation, due to uncertainty regarding the future of prices and wages. Commodities generally are weak and declining. Metals and textiles, which include a very large proportion of domestic industry, are comparatively lower, but as yet there is no evidence of their having reached a stable basis, and there has been no little uneasiness as to the large stocks of metals and raw and manufactured articles held by the government and others which must eventually come on the market at a heavy depreciation from war prices. It is true that shelves are bare, that buying power is large, but with such risks as that just noted buyers naturally held aloof until satisfied that bottom has been reached for the season at least. Manufacturers are also held back pending adjustment of wage disputes. Now that the cost of living has begun to decline, it is feared such difficulties will become less acute. Not a few industrial concerns have reduced prices of their products to a level that eliminates all profit, while others are running upon exceedingly narrow margins, and a good many dividends have been reduced or passed, with others to follow. In some instances strong concerns will be obliged to pay their taxes out of borrowed money. Such developments are part of the inevitable readjustment of business to a peace basis. Capital has thus far made heavy sacrifices and is doing its full share in aiding adjustment to the new. It remains to be seen what labor will do toward helping the situation, either through concessions in wages or increases in the product; or whether it will stand pat and impede the attempt to reduce prices, from which it will be the greatest beneficiary. Unfortunately, labor is deceiving itself by standing in the way of natural developments, since very moderate concessions would give industry a fresh start, from which jobs to the unemployed would quickly follow.

while are those who are satisfied with life; those who waste time in idleness or frivolity will, in the end, have cause to regret their course.

Everybody will have bumps, some spiritual, some physical. But the important thing is to take them philosophically, bravely, and still keep going. The man or woman who stops to shed tears will get shoved to the side of the road by those coming up and who push on even while their eyes are blinded with tears.

Even after our worst bumps, let us remember Longfellow's advice in the "Psalm of Life."

"Let us then be up and doing
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait."

SPIKE ALLEGED

The National Security league came out of the congressional probe unscathed, despite the fact that it was threatened with prosecution for not having reported its expenditures under the Corrupt Practices act provided for political parties. The league says it is not in politics nor is it a political party. In a statement in reference to the investigation President Rydicker of the league said:

"The attack of the committee was based upon a chart, published months before the election, which for accuracy in recording votes is unassailable. The votes selected were, when made, most accurate illustrations of mental bent, explainable possibly in some instances by party control, but none

New York papers chortled with glee when they learned that the steam trawler Albatross, from Nova Scotia, was to reach the city on a certain day with 300,000 pounds of fresh fish such as cod and haddock. "We shall have plenty of cheap fish now," said they. The next day, however, the New York papers found fish was selling as high as ever. Fish bought for 8 and 10 cents a pound was sold at a profit averaging 66 per cent.

Everett W. Lord, federal director of labor for Massachusetts, in making an address at Salem, predicted that within six months contractors and others would be seriously embarrassed for the want of all kinds of help. Mr. Lord mentioned that 1,250,000 persons of foreign birth had applied to the department of state for passports. If they are all given passports, for goodness sake, can this mean that it will leave about a million jobs to be filled?

SEEN AND HEARD

Children are beginning to carry pussy willows home from school, and skip ropes, hoops and tops forecast the change of seasons.

No more will the state police be able to swoop down upon the old King Philip tavern in the wee small hours and "break up the party."

Did you ever think how fortunate people are who live in Florida and California and never have to worry about getting the ash barrels out?

Or cleaning the walks so the snow won't turn into slush? Or dashing down stairs to throw on a little more antiseptic? Or putting on double windows? Oh, boy!

Why does Bill Bay State place white poles on one corner and then make a rule that a car must cross an intersecting street before coming to a stop? For instance—Broadway and School streets, east bound.

Officers on the U.S.S. George Washington were very considerate in not sounding the general alarm to abandon ship until 9 o'clock in the morning. As the president "escorted" Mrs. Wilson to their life boat, he "might" have been tipped off before hand.

Teddy had the usual 9 o'clock sickness and did not have to go to school as a result. But at 10 o'clock he found that he had recovered and after dressing sought his mother in the kitchen. "I'm well, mother," he announced. "but I can't go to school till noon. You see it's too late now just to be counted tardy and too early to be counted absent."—Indianapolis News.

Outwitted the Thief

Pat had been to an English fair and sold some cattle, with the result that he had a wallet containing more than $1000 in his breast-pocket. A well-known thief, getting to know this, insisted on taking him in to even to the extent of sharing the room where Pat lodged.

"He got up before me in the morning," explained Pat in relating the occurrence, "and slipped away with my coat instead of his own."

"And is your money gone?" asked a friend.

"No! A penny of it," replied Pat. "Sure, didn't I slip it all into his coat pocket before I went to bed that night for safety sake?"—London Mail.

Such Is Fame

Two gentlemen, a lawyer and his friend, were recently motoring through Greenfield, Ind., the birthplace of James Whitcomb Riley. They stopped for luncheon and after the meal inquired of the hotel clerk.

"Where is the Riley house?" "I don't know any hotel by that name," he replied, "although there may be some boarding house here."

"I mean the James Whitcomb Riley house," said the lawyer, thinking that the clerk had misunderstood him.

"I don't know him. You may be able to find his name in the city directory."

"I guess he's moved," said the lawyer.

"Probably," the hotel keeper commented. "Some of them renters don't stay long in a place."

Half a century ago, when the fame of Whittier, the Quaker poet, was yet young, a somewhat similar incident occurred in Amesbury, where he lived. A traveller, with a few hours to spare and a soul for poetry, strolled into a shop on the main street and asked for "the Whittier house."

"There's plenty of Whittiers in town," he said, using the local pronunciation of the name. "But there don't none of 'em keep a hotel. Somebody's told you wrong."

"No, no," explained the visitor. "I'm not looking for a hotel; I want to find the house Whittier lives in."

"Which Whittier?" exploded the traveller, who was of peevish disposition. "The Whittier! I don't care whether the rest of the tribe live in Ballyhack or Amesbury!"

"They don't live in Ballyhack, and most of 'em do live in Amesbury, and I can direct you to any Whittier house you want to find," declared the aggrieved clerk. "All is, don't fly off the handle. Just tell me which, and I'll tell you where. But if you won't so much as tell a fellow which Whittier you want, how's he to tell which house your Whittier lives in?"

"I want," said the traveller, "John Greenleaf Whittier, the poet."

"O!" remarked the clerk. "Hint! Your boot is worn over sideways considerably, and I thought, most likely you were looking for Whittier, the shoemaker."—St. Louis Republic.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

About the nicest compliment we have heard visitors to Lowell make in regard to the city's hospitality, was in connection with the visit to this city one afternoon last week of a party of 10 soldiers from Camp Devens' base hospital. The R. of C. war camp service within a short time has come into possession of two good limousine touring automobiles which have been sent to Camp Devens and by the R. of C. organization there, turned over to the authorities in charge of the base hospital to be used to take returned wounded soldiers out for airings and health giving rides.

The party of ten soldiers of whom we speak, came to Lowell and were brought, among other places visited, to the R. of C. headquarters in Asseclate building. Here they found themselves in a congenial atmosphere and they were shown what the local organization, through its executive officers and War Camp Secretary Sampson, was accomplishing for the good of soldiers visiting here from Camp Devens. This party was taken to a number of other places and became acquainted with a number of patriotic Lowell people known to be particularly friendly to all soldier boys. The compliment I speak of came at the end of the afternoon, along about time for the return trip to the base hospital to be started. "This town is immense," said practically all the wounded men.

"There is nothing better for us anywhere than what we have been given in Lowell this afternoon—real friendship and kindness. Lowell is a good old town and we wish we could stay on here."

Many Lowell people were of course saddened by hearing the news last Friday that Daniel J. Donovan, veteran marketman of the city, had passed away. Of this number none were more sad than Mr. John H. Corbett of this city. There was a time, some years ago, when in particular, four Lowell marketmen were especially prominent in the business of conducting markets. These were: Daniel J.

Donovan, John F. Saunders, John Keefe and John H. Corbett. It is true that they were energetic and active rivals of each other in the market business, often times cutting prices and doing all sorts of enterprising things to see if a majority of the trade of the city's housewives could be secured for one market, but when the four of them met at the Middlesex street railroad station, regularly and punctually at a certain time every Thursday noon, as was their habit, this business animosity was wholly forgotten. They for years made it a practice to enjoy a weekly luncheon together at a favorite Boston hotel and none better than these four knew if the meat served was what it ought to be. After the luncheon they had a habit of visiting all the big beef wholesale houses with which they did business, inspecting the stock and giving orders for the Friday and Saturday business in meat. I am told that they got chances to take in ball games often in the summer and an occasional show in winter. The best of good fellowship and friendship ruled and was long continued. All these men were substantial men in the community. Of the number none is now alive except Mr. Corbett.

"THE LIBERATOR"

A 12-Episode Serial, STARRING GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO'S SENSATIONAL

MACISTE

THE LIBERATOR is "The Big Fellow's" newest starring vehicle, and is offered in installments of two reels each, covering a period of twelve weeks.

More than a year was spent in producing the
"Liberator." The actual cash outlay involved in the picture would cover the total cost of five of the average serials on the market today. The producers of THE LIBERATOR for Mr. Harry Raver, have never spared
time or expense to outdo other producers. They made
the first film-spectacle, "The Fall of Troy," nine years ago, and are famous for the invention of the new effects
and illusions which other producers have so eagerly
adapted in subsequent films.

"THE LIBERATOR" is not a War picture, although
"Maciste" is always in conflict of one kind or another.
It bristles with action, satisfies with its thrills, stunts and
startling situations, supplies many a laugh when best
needed: there is romance and mystery aplenty and
"MACISTE" is at his best from main title to trailer.
Massive interior settings erected at a cost staggering to
the average producer lend dignity and beauty to the atmosphere of the story. In short, THE LIBERATOR is
the biggest sort of entertainment, coupled-up with The Biggest Sort of a Star, whose creator, Gabriele d'An-
nunzio, aviator-poet, and saviour of Italy's morale, unite
in happy combination to form the Year's Greatest Motion

LOWELL'S NEAR-EAST RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Lowell's near east relief campaign
came to a close Saturday night with $25,510.21 of the $12,900 quota for the district subscribed. Of this amount
the city proper turned in $18,822.71,
while the towns contributed $6,687.50.
The local committee, while regretting
that the full quota could not be secured, feel that every means possible
has been used, and that the campaign
had run its race.

The prize of a Seth Thomas vestry
clock for the parish team turning in
the largest amount of money was won
by the First Congregational church,
which had a total of $2,505.33. Two towns, oversubscribed their quotas—
Lynn and Reading. The final push
was obtained in Reading by the members of Co. E, Sixteenth Infantry, M.S.
G., who instituted a house-to-house cavass in the town. Dracut more than doubled its quota.

NEW POLICE COURT CLERK ON DECK

William J. Carroll, who was recently appointed assistant clerk of the local police court by Clerk Edward W. Trull,
assumed his new duties this morning
and was given a cordial welcome by
his brother lawyers.

Mr. Carroll formerly maintained a
law office in this city, but ten months
ago he removed to Washington, D. C.,
after receiving an appointment in the
treasury department as a revenue agent
for the federal estate tax. A few months later he was transferred to the Springfield, Ill., district, and made his home in Champagne, Ill. His district comprised the entire states of Illinois,
Iowa and Missouri.

When the young man received the
news of his appointment to the position of assistant clerk of the local police court, he tendered his resignation
to the federal government but it was not accepted. He was offered the privilege of being transferred to the Boston district which include Maine,
Massachusetts, New Hampshire and
Vermont, but he declined the offer,
preferring to return to Lowell. He was given a leave of absence of 15 days,
however, to reconsider his resignation,
but he stated this morning that he
had made up his mind to accept the position of assistant clerk of the police court.

At 3.15 o'clock this forenoon the ambulance was called to the corner of Broadway and School street, where a man named John Desmond had injured his head in a fall on the sidewalk. The injured man was taken to the Lowell Corporation hospital.

RAID ON HOUSE IN AYER DISCLOSES BIGAMISTS

CAMP DEVENS, March 10.—An amazing tale of three triple marriages without, it is alleged, any of the trio involved having obtained a divorce from their several wives and husbands, was revealed here yesterday by department of justice and military officials.

The disclosures came as a result of the raid Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Henry Stone (alias Mrs. Grace Taylor), on the Harvard road, about a mile and a half from this cantonment.

The raid was made after many complaints had been received that the house was being used as a rendezvous for soldiers from this cantonment. Liquor was sold, it is charged, and other improper actions were indulged in.

Soldiers were allowed a "charge account" until pay day. The raid was made by E. K. Pond, special agent of the department of justice, military officials, Chief Patrick Reilly of the Ayer police, Lieutenant Hannibal Hamlin of the Law Enforcement League, with a detail of soldiers and police officers. Three arrests were made.

Andrew H. Lestley, who Mrs. Lestley claims is her third husband, is in the guardhouse here facing court-martial on a charge of bigamy. Military officials claim that he has confessed to having been married three times and never divorced. All his wives are said to be living.

Both the women have also admitted to having been married three times, according to statements of the pair in the hands of the department of justice here. And, according to their statements made in the presence of the arresting officials and which are to be presented to the court, neither of them has ever obtained any divorce or divorces. One of the three husbands of the Lestley woman is said to have died in the service at Camp Dix last fall. The last husband of the Stone-Taylor woman is serving a term at the United States army prison at Camp Jay, after conviction on a charge of defrauding the government by fraudulent allotment.

The sensation which the disclosure has caused was amplified last night when it was learned that Lestley and his "wife" lived as "Mr. and Mrs. Lestley" at the home of Superintendent of Schools Frank C. Johnson in the town of Ayer. They were about socially at many Ayer functions. This before they went through a marriage ceremony on Sept. 10, 1918.

A wider matrimonial tangle was never uncovered say the officers investigating the case and the disclosures already in hand for presentation to the federal court and to the military court-martial are but partial ones, they say.

An Ounce of Sincerity Is Worth Tons of Cleverness

Selling reliable merchandise at a profit 10 to 15 per cent less than the average store asks is not clever. But it is a sincere effort to make sure that Chalifoux prices are lowest. We cannot buy for less than other stores, but we can buy for as little because we pay cash and take every discount and every advantage. But we can sell for less than other stores if we desire. And we have adopted the policy of marking everything on a basis of 10 to 15 per cent less than the average.

The case of Ralph E. Palmer, charged with larceny of an automobile owned by Thomas Hennessey on Sept. 9 last, was continued until next Monday.

Twenty-nine men of foreign tongue, representing the result of a wholesale raid on Jan. 17, at a coffee house at 129 Market street, were called on a blanket charge of being present where gaming implements were found. They were held before the bench only after some difficulty and were at last lined up in one long file to plead guilty. Each was ordered to pay a fine of $3, thus enriching the county in the sum of $87.

Another group of foreign-tongued gentlemen, this time in the form of a sextette, were called on the charge of being present where gaming implements were found. They pleaded guilty and each was ordered to pay a fine of $3. Three others were fined $5 each.

Myer Stetson, Manuel Perry and Max Wolf pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking, entering and larceny. The cases were held until 2 o'clock for sentence.

Jas. J. Connell was charged with violating the state automobile laws by operating a machine while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded nolo, and was ordered to pay a fine of $10.

Alfred Daniel, Joseph Lamont and Augustus Marlen, were called. Daniel pleaded not guilty on the charge of breaking, entering and larceny on February 20 at the camp of Gordon C. Bixby at Chelmsford. Lamont and Marlen also pleaded not guilty on the same charge. The larceny charge included the theft of a clock, provisions, dumb bells and clothes. Daniel then changed his plea of larceny to guilty. Lamont and Marlen also changed their pleas of breaking and entering to guilty.

Superintendent of Police Redmond Welch was called to testify and told the story of the breaks.

District Attorney Tufts asked that a substantial sentence be imposed on the case of Alfred Daniel, who is already on probation, and the court sentenced him to four months at hard labor in the Lowell jail. This sentence was then revealed, and Daniel, Lamont and Marlen were each sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

The proceedings against Nelson Danbois, charged with breaking, entering and larceny, were annulled, and the young man was discharged.

Joseph Hachez and Felix Garnau were called on a charge of breaking, entering and receiving. Hachez pleaded not guilty in three counts of larceny at the camps of Fred S. Kingsbury, Samuel Greathead and Henry A. Turcotte on February 17, 1919. Garnau pleaded guilty on the same counts.

The cases were then brought to trial and the following jurors were drawn: Eldores A. Cantner, Fred S. Hall, Alfred W. Anderson, David A. Casey, Arnold J. Laurie, Joseph H. McLaughlin, Robert Catherwood, Michael J. Gray, John C. Twohey, William A. Meenan, Charles F. Coburn and John P. French. Mr. Coburn was appointed foreman.

Myer Stetson and Manuel Perry, who earlier in the session had pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny, were each fined $50, and Max Wolf, who also pleaded guilty on a similar charge, was fined $100.

The indictments against Joseph Hachez and Felix Garnau contained the alleged larceny of clothes, photograph records, shoes, razors, sweaters, canned goods, rifle, cards, etc.

Henry A. Turcotte, Samuel Greathead and Fred S. Kingsbury were called in turn to testify for the government. Each told of the condition of his camp as it appeared on a visit after the alleged breaks.

Edmond Welch testified that Hachez admitted to him that he had broken into one cottage on the banks of the Merrimack river, but that he did not know who owned it.

The jury was then dismissed until 2 o'clock.

U. S. SHIPS SAIL 7 SEAS

Our Merchant Ships, For First Time Since "Clipper," Sail To All Parts of World

WASHINGTON, March 10.—For the first time since the days of the famous "clipper" ships, American merchant craft now are plying the seven seas, carrying products of the United States to the farthest corners of the earth and bringing home both essentials and luxuries.

The shipping board announced yesterday that the American merchant marine fleet built up under the spur of war's necessity now represented nearly one-fifth of the entire sea-going tonnage of the world and comprised 46 per cent of all ships clearing from United States ports, as compared with 9.7 per cent before the great war.

Trade routes not traversed by American craft for more than 50 years once more are invaded, with new routes established to China, Australia, New Zealand, India, the Dutch East Indies, the west coast of Africa and ports on the Mediterranean. Ships flying the Stars and Stripes also are running regularly to South America, Great Britain and continental Europe, as well as to Canada and Mexico.

The fleet now engaged in overseas consists of 351 of the freighters, 94 freight and passenger vessels; 71 oil tankers; 230 sailing vessels, and 16 miscellaneous ships, aggregating 1,961,239 gross tons. Of this total 406,825 gross tons are employed in transatlantic trade; 315,329 tons in transpacific trade; 402,721 tons in South American trade; 761,252 tons in Caribbean and Mexican trade, and 76,019 tons in Alaska and Canadian trade.

When the army and navy return to the shipping board the 351 ships which they are operating, the commercial fleet under the American flag will be increased by 1,873,251 gross tons, making the total 3,834,490 gross tons, with many hundreds of thousands of tons building or under contract.

A party of nearly 40 Lowell young women, comprising what they call "Lowell's All Girl Show," braved the bad weather Sunday afternoon and journeyed to Camp Devens to entertain the wounded at the base hospital and other centers of camp life. Every member of the party who had been rehearsing for some time with the rest of the "troupe" at the home of Mr. Tedmond Welch, turned up promptly on hand at the time appointed to leave by 1 p. m. Some delay was experienced through the people who had volunteered to loan an auto truck as a conveyance backing out at the last moment and it looked as if the "All Girl" outfit would be denied the privilege of entertaining the Camp Devens bunch until Mr. Peter Craig of the Father John's Medical company was appealed to and, similarly as he has been a good friend to this kind of welfare work a number of times in the past, he again promptly filled the gap and asked one of the company's drivers if he would be willing to take the party to Devens. A brand new covered truck was used and on account of the roads being in such bad condition it was necessary to take the round about route through Concord to reach Devens.

The party arrived at Camp Devens at 4 p. m. and went immediately to the base hospital where it gave its program. Following this hospital entertainment, the All Girl show was taken to the Enlisted Men's club which was reached at just about the time many of the soldiers were enjoying Sunday evening supper at the club rooms. In pretty groups the Lowell girls sang popular and patriotic songs which were much applauded. Many men were at this building who had been in the service only as recently as Saturday and had come to Camp Devens from the front.

After the girls had enjoyed a camp supper they were taken to the main K. of C. building where the best entertainment of the afternoon was put on, owing to the fact that it was possible to have the convenience of a stage and orchestral accompaniment. The girls were grouped on the stage in the form of a semi-circle, minstrel show fashion, with Miss Alice Marchant as interlocutor.

The program given was as follows: Opening chorus, entire company; and song, "The Little Boat." In black-face character song, Miss Alice Marchant; songs by the following: Miss P. McManis, assisted by Miss Anderson; Miss Helen Glenister; Miss Anna Cavanaugh; Miss Isabelle Walsh; Miss Lauretta Flannery; Miss Mary Ryne; Miss Alice Glenister, ingenue from the Emerson Players here, was a volunteer for the occasion, appearing with the All Girl show, and sang a song called "Kisses" during which she distributed candy once to the boys.

The stage arrangements for giving the evening show at the main K. of C. building and general supervision of the performance was under the direction of War Camp Secretary Sampson of Lowell K. of C. headquarters. The girls were coached for their offering by Miss Mary Ryne and Esther Crowley. The violinists who played as accompanists for the singing were Louise Crowley, Wesley Dwyer and Helen Perouta. The exception to the All Girl personnel was James Paul, artist. The little Dwyer sisters were with the company and were received with the usual enthusiasm accorded them when they appear at camp.

SAY BORAH'S PROMISES ARE NO GOOD

POSTON, March 10.—"You don't want to take any stock in Senator Borah's promises," said Miss Mabel Vernon at the "Prison Special" mass meeting of the women suffragists in the Wilbur Theatre last evening. "We know him and we know what his promises amount to. He has gone back on all the promises he ever made us."

Thus was the United States senator from Idaho branded as a sort of "ray devils" with women suffragists by one of the handsomest and most prominent of the women in the national women's party. Yet, emphatic as was the statement it did not produce a very great sensation with the big audience largely because of the fact that Miss Vernon had just told how she and several other women had been fooled by the silver-tongued senator from the west.

She and three other young women had made an appointment with him at the Touraine for 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon. They were "on deck" but he was not. He had left for Washington a quarter of an hour before.

The sting in the disappointment came from the fact that these young women had seen the senator the evening before and had asked him why the United States senate had turned down the woman suffrage amendment.

He assured them that that matter had been all fixed, that the necessary vote had been secured, and that at the next session of congress the first thing the senate proposed to do was take up the woman suffrage amendment and pass it. Then it was that he made the appointment for 10 o'clock in the forenoon of yesterday at the Hotel Touraine, which he evidently forgot.

Miss Vernon intimated that that was a habit the senator had and she told of specific instances of promises made to the woman suffragists which he subsequently ignored or forgot all about.

HAROLD VARNUM DEAD

Well Known Lawyer Passed Away at His Home in Varnum Avenue

In the death of Harold A. Varnum, which occurred Sunday morning at his home, 58 Varnum avenue, Lowell loses one of her finest types of young men, a member of the Lowell Exchange, former city solicitor. His age was 39 years.

Harold Abbott Varnum was born in Lowell, March 1, 1880, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson C. Varnum.

HAROLD A. VARNUM.

He was graduated from the high school in 1899 and immediately entered Amherst college, from which he was graduated in the class of 1903. His scholastic attainments were most noteworthy and he was prominently identified with athletics, especially football. He studied law at Harvard university and obtained his degree in 1908. He then entered the office of the law firm of Richardson, Trull & Wier, where he remained for some time.

On Feb. 15, 1918, he was elected city solicitor and conducted this office with honor and efficiency until he resigned.

in January, 1917. He also at one time held the chairmanship of the republican city committee. Although in failing health when he left the office of city solicitor he continued to practice for some months until compelled to abandon all active work. Blessed with an apparently vigorous body during his younger years, his falling health seemed doubly sad to his friends, who had anticipated for him a life of activity and splendid achievement, and his death brings deep sorrow to hundreds of men and women.

Mr. Varnum always had attended the Episcopalian Congregational church and took an active part in its affairs. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Atkinson C. Varnum, and one brother, Arthur C. Varnum.

The council also decreed a "preventive censorship" for the press of the Rhineland.

ANOTHER HOLDUP

Bernard Gallery, a resident of Mt. Vernon street, reports that early Saturday morning while on his way home, he was held up at the point of a revolver by an unknown man. He states the holdup occurred at the corner of Cross and Mt. Vernon streets and that the bandit ordered him to turn over his money. Gallery informed the stranger that he was broke and after the highwayman searched his pockets and failed to find any money, he passed on. Gallery's gold watch and chain were untouched.

STORE BROKEN INTO

The Hardy variety store in the Oaklands district was broken into by boys a couple of days ago and a small amount of goods was taken. The police were notified of the break but no clue as to the identity of the thief or thieves was found.

DRACUTT'S POLICE CHIEF

William H. Cullum, who for the past ten years has held the position of police officer for the Collinsville district of the town of Dracutt, was at a recent meeting of the board of selectmen of the town, elected chief of selectmen. This action was taken after Chairman Lincoln of the board of selectmen, who by virtue of his office is chief of police, turned in his resignation as head of the constabulary. Mr. Lincoln will retain his position as chairman of the board.

ANNUAL LENTEN MISSIONS

Large congregations marked the opening of the annual Lenten missions at St. Joseph's and St. Jean Baptiste churches last evening. The services, which were for the married women, were held at 6.30 o'clock and special musical programs were given in both churches. The preacher at St. Joseph's church was Rev. Fr. Villeneuve, O.M.I., while at St. Jean Baptiste the sermon was delivered by Rev. Fr. Decelles, O.M.I. Both missionaries are from Cap de la Madeleine, Que. Services will be held every evening this week at 7.30 o'clock in both churches.

HEARING IN BILLERICA

The board of selectmen of Billerica have set Monday evening, March 17, as the date for the hearing with reference to the recent changes in the zone limit on the Woburn line of the Bay State Street Railway Co. in the vicinity of Pinchard. The hearing will be a result of the change that was made by the railway officials after the new zone limit was established in that locality. The fare limit was at Pinchard park, and it appears that on a request of patrons of the road in the vicinity of the Riverdale district the line was changed to the Allen road, nearly a third of a mile north of the original fare limit. There was considerable objection to the new zone and as a result the railway officials have decided to let the selectmen settle the matter and set the fare limit and hence the hearing.

He arrived in this country about a month ago and came to Lowell from New York. He is in excellent health and has not yet been discharged from the service.

There was also an address by Daniel Donovan, general organizer of the International Association of Machinists, who spoke about organization and construction. Musical and literary numbers were given by Commissioner James E. Donnelly, Edward Donaghy, Francis A. Connor, Patrick Novins, Paul Angelo and James Daly. The program was brought to a close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly. The affair was in charge of the following committee: John Carroll, Parker Murphy, Joseph Jordan, Joseph Lannon, Peter Gillick and John Garraghan.

Thomas Edison also has a warm place in the hearts of the French, Mr. Maxwell said.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS MUST BE RATIFIED

VISION AND OPPORTUNITY

Look around and see the men who have missed their opportunity, men who have failed to do the right thing at the right time. "If I had only done this or that, I'd have made so and so, or been so and so!" Why didn't they?

If we'd had a League of Nations, there'd have been no war. Germany ought to have been controlled before and arbitration enforced. Why wasn't the Hague Peace Tribunal made strong and binding?

The fact is they failed to do the right thing at the right time. They missed the opportunity. Those people or rather those diplomats—"None so blind as those who will not see"—would not or could not see far enough ahead. Some were too shortsighted—they could only see their own magnified interests through their glasses. Others with their long range glasses could only see things so far away that they could not point them out and bring within the range of the others. And then there was no united effort for the practical solution. They missed their opportunity. "Cursed be those who will not see!"

Today, we have opened our eyes and focused our vision a bit beyond our immediate range, and many far away things have been brought nearer which we are now compelled to see. Let us get our vision clear, concentrate it on surroundings beyond our very noses and still avoid going into the too far distance, dreaming dreams and imagining bogeys from phantoms.

We have practical projects before us. The opportunity is there. It must be seized. It is the right time to do the right thing. Don't miss out this time. All concentrate and unite on a united League of Free Nations and be ready to take our part.

The League of Nations is no party project. It is the world's and the people's project. Never mind WHO said this or that, or WHO wrote this or that. Use your own judgment. Learn and think and vote. Party leaders have misled. Why? They want to grind their own axes.

Battleship Docks at Boston
With Contingent of New

by State and City Committees—Those on Board

Nebraska from Brest, France, with 1100 returning soldiers, docked here
today, the first warship-transport to
enter this port. A majority of her
passengers were New England men in
casual companies.

Roads early this morning after a rough
passage of 13 days.

A large flotilla of harbor vessels escorted her to a berth at Commonwealth
pier, where the troops were serenaded
by a naval band, enthusiastically welcomed by state and city official greet-
ing committees and served with refreshments by war work welfare organizations.

With the exception of nine stretcher
cases, which were taken immediately
to the Parker Hill hospital, the soldiers entrained for Camp Devens shortly after they landed. With them were 12 Y.M.C.A. secretaries, who served in France.

The returned units included Battery
F, 54th Artillery, 10 officers and 230
men; casual companies 940 and 938,
with four officers and 273 men of the
regular army; casual company 273,
with one officer and 32 men of the United States Marine corps; casual companies 941, 947, 871 and 230 with nine
officers and 417 men from Massachusetts;
casual company 273 with 20 men
from various parts of the country and
evacuation ambulance No. 5 with four
officers and 10 men.

After discharging the troops, the
the Charlestown navy yard for slight
repairs.

The parallel cases of Joseph Ma-
chuz and Felix Curqueau, charged with breaking and entering and larceny of
Feb. 17 last at the summer camps of
Fred S. Kinsbury, Samuel Greenhead
and Henry A. Turcotte, situated on the Merrimack river in Tyngsboro, were
the only ones to be called at the criminal session of the superior criminal
court held in Lowell this morning. No
sentence had been returned at 2.30
o'clock.

Practically all of the cases which
came before Judge Dubuque at the
morning session, which terminated at 1 o'clock, were of a minor nature.

The court convened at 10 o'clock
with Judge Dubuque on the bench.
Rev. N. W. Matthews pronounced the
invocation. Through agreement by the commonwealth and defendants' counsel
the case of Joseph Cordio and Francisco Peck, indicted for the murder of Fred Smith at Billerica on October 11, 1915, was postponed for three
weeks.

Arthur A. Smith, charged with carrying a pistol without proper authority, paid a fine of $25 and the case
was placed on file.

Charles J. Jolbert, charged with disorderly conduct, pleaded nolo, and
his case was placed on file, on recommendation of Edmund Welch, superintendent of local police.

Haralambos Danias, charged with conducting a gaming nuisance, paid a $50 fine.

The case of Herbie Domes, charged
with gaming, was placed on file.

The case of Louis Lavarria, charged
with polygamy, was held over until
next Monday at East Cambridge.

James Koutsiras, charged with larceny, pleaded guilty. He was placed on probation, with the agreement that

FALSE ALARM

Henry J. Plante, aged 14 years, who claims he is a transfer by occupation, was arrested Saturday night on
through Thorndike street shortly before 9 o'clock Saturday night, Plante
"stamped" his friend, a boy named Connors to ring in a fire alarm from
have the nerve to go through the stunt
and it was then, so it is claimed, that Plante pulled in the alarm. The boy
held by a man until the police officers
arrived.

SPARTACANS IN BERLIN SUBURB

60 Officers and Soldiers in Lychtenberg Station Were Murdered

Hundreds Killed and Wounded in Fighting—Many

AMSTERDAM, March 10.—Spartacus
forces yesterday occupied the Berlin
suburb of Lychtenberg and murdered 60 officers and soldiers in the polic station, according to the Zeitung Am Mittag. The police station had withstood Spartacus attacks since Tuesday.

MANY KILLED AT

LONDON, Sunday, March 9.—Many
were killed and wounded in fighting
at Halle, Germany, on Saturday, according to Copenhagen despatches to
the Central News. Spartacans drowned
many students and officers in the river,
and there was general pillage. Government troops eventually gained the
mastery.

A German wireless despatch received
here, gives a semi-official report of
recent happenings at Berlin. Fighting
lasted from 10 o'clock Wednesday night,
when the mutineers opened fire with
field guns and nine throwers on police
headquarters, until late Friday night.
There were isolated encounters even
as late as Saturday morning. The despatch adds that, even if final resistance has not yet completely broken
down, the crisis may be regarded as
safely passed.

AT DUSSENDORF

COPENHAGEN, Sunday, March 9.—
Spartacans hoisted the imperial standard over the palace at Berlin last night, according to advices received here. The flag was immediately removed by government troops. Martial law has been proclaimed at Dusseldorf.

ENORMOUS LOSSES
CAUSED BY FIGHTING

COPENHAGEN, Sunday, March 9.—
The number of individuals who suffered property losses in the course of the four days' fighting in Berlin last week is estimated at 6000.

There was heavy loss to building and dwelling, and the Spartacans engaged in wholesale looting of shops and private houses. One of the large department stores in the Alexanderplatz estimated the damage it suffered as in excess of three million marks.

The losses of the past week, added
to those of the week of the first Spartacan outbreak are likely to involve the city of Berlin or the state or national government in damage suits totaling more than 150,000,000 marks.

received at Northeastern department

General Clarence R. Edwards, who

in France, sent the following:

Preliminary Peace Negotiations
Open at Versailles Mar. 20---
England Yields on Ships

PARIS, March 10.—A change in
the attitude of the British government regarding the plan to sink in-
terned German warships has been
noticed since the return of Premier
Lloyd George to Paris. It now appears probable that Great Britain will
be willing to permit France and Italy
to keep some of the ships, but will
consent to sink her own allotment.

In this way, it is said, Great
States of the necessity of carrying
out her projected great naval building program, which, it is understood,
any one nation from having such a
predominant navy as would give her
control of the seas against the powers of the league of nations.

The addition of a limited number
of German warships to the French
and Italian navies would not sensibly disturb the present balance of

Germany.

The desire of American naval experts that the German ships be eliminated completely, it is said, is based
on considerations of economy, as
they hold that if the ships are given
to Great Britain in the proportion
proposed, the United States would be
compelled to spend one billion dollars
to maintain her place in the naval
lists.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

PARIS, Sunday, March 9. (By the Associated Press).—Preliminary peace negotiations may begin at Versailles
about March 20, according to reports in circulation here today. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the foreign minister, is arranging for a small party
of prominent business men, to accompany the German commissioners as experts. The men have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness for departure on March 17 or March 18.

"NO DOUBT EX-KAISER

LONDON, March 10.—"There is no doubt that the former emperor of Germany was the first and responsible author of the war. He absolutely wished for it and conducted it himself in all its ruthlessness and barbarity." This is a statement attributed to the Prince of Monaco by the Mail's Paris correspondent, who interviewed the prince there. The correspondent recalls that the prince was formerly a personal friend of Emperor William, but that friendship was severed by the prince in a telegram sent to the emperor in September, 1914.

Pray That Home Rule Be Submitted to Peace Conference in Paris

LONDON, March 10.—A petition has
been submitted to King George, signed
by a number of Irish officers who
served in the British army during
the war, praying that Irish home rule
be submitted to the peace conference.

eral Sir William B. Hickie, commander
of the 15th Irish Division in France;
Brigadier General Darrell T. Hammond, Colonel Sir Henry C. Gratlan-Bellow, descendant of the famous Irish statesman, Henry Grattan; Colonel Sir
Thomas C. Miles, Stephen L. Gwynn,
formerly member of the house of commons for Galway; Captain Healy,
nephew of Timothy M. Healy; Sir
Thomas H. G. Esmonde, on behalf of
and Mrs. William E. K. Redmond and Mrs. Thomas M. Kettle, on behalf of their husbands, who were killed in
the war.

The petition claims that 200,000 men
in Ireland and an equal number of Irish from Great Britain's overseas
dominions volunteered for service in
return home, notwithstanding the
fact that the home rule act was a
great Irish national demand, they
and, therefore, pray the king to
submit the issue to the peace conference in Paris.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL
COMMISSION

"When they are going to start the new high school" is a question being asked frequently by Lowell people.
Mayor Thompson shed a little light on the matter today when he said that he is drawing up a bill to be presented to the legislature asking that the city of Lowell be empowered to appoint a new high school commission. The original high school commission has been declared illegal. This bill is practically completed and due for early presentation to the legislature.

Conviction of Socialist Lead-

preme Court

Constitutionality of Enlistment Section of Espionage Act Upheld

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The supreme court today sustained the conviction of Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, found guilty of violating the espionage act through statements
made in a speech at Canton, Ohio,
last June, and sentenced to 10 years imprisonment.

In deciding the case the court in effect upheld the constitutionality of the so-called enlistment section of the espionage act of 1917. The opinion of the court was unanimous.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Conviction under the espionage act of Jacob Dreyer of Kansas City, because of articles appearing in the Missouri Staats Zeitung, of which he was editor, criticizing America's participation in the war, was upheld today by the supreme court in deciding appeals brought from federal court judgments sentencing him to 10 years' imprisonment.

Commissioner's Warning

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Warning
was issued today by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper that persons who

AMSTERDAM, March 10.—The Ber-

Richard Mueller, the strike leader, declared the workmen must now refor renewing action. "We shall learn from our experiences," he added.

the first of which was to be present-

moved the safe from the box office to the center aisle, blew it open and stole $3700 in cash and $200 in Liberty

THE BEST REMEDY

For an aching tooth, some people say, is to have it pulled. There is a better remedy; don't allow a tooth to get as far advanced in various

Wonderful Results
At 70 From Internal Baths

Mrs. L. M. Wadlin, 2013 National ave., San Diego, Cal., writes Thyroil's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:

"Within the last month we had wonderful results and all inflammation has nearly subsided. I could hardly expect a woman over 70 to receive benefit from a trouble of long standing as quickly as a younger person. Money could not buy my 'J. B. L. Cascade' if I could not get another."

It is difficult to believe how many internal troubles internal bathing will relieve until you realize that physicians agree that 85% of human ailments are caused by accumulated waste in the lower intestine.

"The 'J. B. L. Cascade' is the scientific method of internal bathing, removes in a perfectly natural way, all poisonous waste, and has been so successful in promoting health that over half a million intelligent Americans are now using it regularly."

It is the invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D. of New York, who for 25 years was a specialist on internal bathing, and it is now being shown and explained by all Liggett-Lickey-Lavens stores in New England.

They will give you on request a very interesting booklet on Internal Bathing by Dr. Tyrrell, 'Man of Tomorrow' is only 50¢.

Ask for it today and know more about yourself and your functions than you ever have before.—ADV.

Rhode Island Resident Ends Her Suffering by Building Up Thin Blood

Pain is the body's protest against injury or neglect, whether it is the pain from a pin prick or the pain which follows efforts of the nerves to do their work when undernourished. Many people are daily suffering unnecessary pain through failure to recognize in their symptoms the need of building up the blood. Let the blood become thin and a general breakdown frequently follows. Among the commonest symptoms of thin blood or anemia are: breathlessness after slight exertion, loss of appetite, restlessness, sleepless nights, headaches and often indigestion. Poor and insufficient blood often develops into anemia, a disease which may not be serious if properly treated in its earlier stages but which may be fatal if it reaches the pernicious form.

Mrs. J. A. Ireland, of No. 96 West avenue, Pawtucket, R. I., did not recover her strength after the birth of her second child. She says: "I was all run down and tired out. I did not have any appetite to speak of, my color was gone and I was reduced in weight and strength. At times I would be extremely nervous and it affected my rest so that I did not sleep well."

"Through reading of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the paper I was led to try them and after taking the third box I could see that they were helping me. I soon grew stronger and better in every way and I kept on until I had taken seven boxes. I felt fine then and I shall take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever I need a tonic again."

Mrs. Ireland's trouble was due to thin blood. To build up the blood there is one remedy that has been a household word for a generation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They treat up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, strengthen the nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks and lips and drive away that unnatural dried feeling. Plenty of sunlight, good wholesome food and fresh air will do the rest.

The Book, "Building Up the Blood," gives just the information that ever pale, suffering woman needs. It is free. Write for it today to the Dr. Williams' Medical Co., Schenectady, N. Y. You can get a booklet with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.—ADV.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

H. P. KEITH'S THEATRE

Quite the most distinctive character singer in vaudeville is Lillian Shaw, who will be at the head of the big bill at the H. P. Keith Theatre this week. Her specialty is Italian-American dialect numbers, and no one in the business today does more complete characterizations than does she. One of her best songs is "Gotta Be Rocked," and it has not only melody, but it tells the story of the singer in a vein that is full of quiet, homely humor. She also does a Hebrew character, which is as perfect as any little personation of this kind can be.

"Love, Honor and Obedience" is the name of a sketch which William H. Macart and Editha Brindley will present. It is a reversal of the usual situation in which the woman makes the vows, in this the man promises, and he is held to them by his energetic spouse.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "luggish" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

Geraldine in the environments of Alaska—this is the theme of the new picture. Yet not one of her admirers doubts that she will acquit herself as well, dramatically, as in a drawing-room or on the desert. She will show them in "Shadows," the Golden release, at The Strand beginning with matinee today. Friday's feature, "The Unwilling Hand," will be the other big feature on the bill. This, too, gives the star exceptional opportunity to display an extensive wardrobe and unusual emotional endeavor.

Miss Clemence Sheward, the local vocalist, will be the soloist for the week, and other features will include an excellent comedy, a Universal Weekly and a Chester Outing.

Tomorrow afternoon and night Muriel Ostiche, the motion picture star, known as the Moxie Girl, will appear in person at The Strand and after the performance will hold a reception in the lobby of the theatre. All patrons are cordially invited to attend and exchange personal greetings with this charming young star.

THEATRE TOMORROW AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

Muriel Ostiche, the famous screen star and Moxie Girl, noted for her beauty and talents, will appear in person at The Strand tomorrow afternoon and night. She will be accompanied on her trip to the Spindle City by Miss Krueh, the great scenario writer, and the pair expect to meet the large majority of representative motion picture patrons of the city. According to present schedule Miss Ostiche will reach Lowell late in the forenoon and will lunch down town, and then go to the theatre where she will give a short talk on the art of motion picture making. After the performance she will hold a reception in the lobby of the theatre and all patrons are cordially invited to remain and meet the star. She said on her last visit here that one of the most satisfying evidences of appreciation of a star's efforts to please the screen was to be conversed with and to exchange personal greetings. In this way the actor or actress can somewhat get the pulse of the theatre.

BUY YOUR CAR IN LOWELL

The Boston Auto Show opens March 15. It might as well be called an "All New England Show," for all of this territory participates in it. Thousands of Lowell men and women will journey to attend this great show.

Now is the time for Lowell motor car and truck dealers to advertise in The Sun. This is the time for them to get their names in the minds of the car buyers and their place in the business. Before the eyes of the same Lowell people who read The Sun every evening.

Here's why: A certain proportion of these readers will attend the show in Boston. For his own interest as part of the plan of good salesmanship the Lowell dealer should punch his name into The Sun. He should help put over this propaganda to Lowell Sun readers.

Go to Boston and see all the cars and trucks on exhibition. Compare prices and values. But don't forget this point, every car and truck seen at Mechanics Hall, Boston, can be bought in Lowell through a Lowell dealer.

Why buy your car or truck in Lowell? Because if you buy it in Lowell you won't have to go to Boston to look about it, to find out what's wrong with it, to get it repaired, to buy spare parts for it. In other words, when you buy a car or a truck in Lowell, you buy value plus the service to which you are entitled as the owner of that car and you have access to that service 365 days in the year.

Here is a fair, square, honest argument. Advertise your line—your car—in The Sun, right now. Insure yourself against Lowell people riding in Boston bought cars. Remember, The Sun will come to you and explain all you want to know. Don't let Lowell dealers get away from you. Put your ad in

Chairman Hayes of the republican national committee, has sounded the keynote of the republican campaign which is to be a stand for standard, isolated and supreme nationalism for the United States. This is but the League of Peace issue put in another form. The implication is, that President Wilson is working for internationalism rather than for the direct interests of the United States. It gives out the veiled charge that President Wilson is working against the best interests of this nation.

Chairman Hayes will have very great difficulty in convincing the people that there is any good reason for projecting such a movement against the League of Peace which is above all party issues.

As we have repeatedly remarked, the republicans for the past year have been going up and down this country looking for campaign issues. They attacked the administration from a thousand different angles, but in every case their attacks being largely unjustified, fell flat and were abandoned.

Undoubtedly, the leaders look to this new issue with considerable confidence, as already their leaders are lining up against the League of Nations so far as President Wilson has anything to do with it. They would have little criticism to offer if the British plan for a League of Peace were adopted by the American delegation dissociated from President Wilson.

Senator Lodge, now the republican leader, Senator Knox and Senator Penrose, of course, together with that blatant, braggart and foul-mouthed swashbuckler from Chicago—the man who dishonors the good old name of Sherman—are all in accord on this issue so that the prospect of its being fought to a finish amounts almost to a certainty.

The democratic leaders are quite willing to meet the republicans on this issue and are confident that the public sentiment in support of the League of Nations, as now proposed or even in a modified form, will sweep aside all republican opposition. The republican leaders will have to back down and retreat.

The demand not only in this country but throughout the world for a League of Peace is so strong that the republicans, in attempting to block its adoption here will put themselves much in the same attitude as did Dame Pattinson in trying to stop the Atlantic tide with a mop.

START SOMETHING

The time has arrived when the city government should do something to provide work for a considerable number of those who are idle, and particularly for the soldiers who are walking the streets unable to find employment.

The vote to borrow $100,000 for block paving was supposed to be a step in the direction of helping the labor situation. We do not think that block paving will help more than a very limited number of men. In fact, there are only three or four block pavers in Lowell and as for the cutting of the blocks, the work is done outside the city.

If the city is to borrow $100,000 for the purpose of affording employment for those who need it, we believe the money should be expended in a less exclusive way. We believe that Mayor Thompson is right when he recommends that the vote to borrow $100,000 for paving should be rescinded. A smaller amount, say one-fourth of the sum, can be borrowed and perhaps used to advantage. It seems that under present conditions, loans for building and other construction work will be more serviceable to the city and more helpful to the unemployed than those for paving which is necessarily confined to a very small number of men.

The local labor situation demands prompt and vigorous action on the part of the city government in order that building or other operations may be started as soon as possible. There is a great deal of talk about school buildings and there is undoubted need of several new school buildings. We venture the prediction, however, that when the building season arrives, the school board and the building department will be still haggling over plans and sites or where the work should be started first.

What is needed now is prompt and practical business methods that will get things moving without a waste of weeks and months in boot- less talk about what is needed and what ought to be done.

What the present situation demands is men who will do things rather than talk about them. It is time to start something, gentlemen.

RECKLESS JITTERS

Some of the jittery drivers between this city and Lawrence, remember we do not say all of them—show disregard of the safety of their passengers when they hug the left side of a sharp and dangerous curve, where they cannot see much more than three lengths of their machine ahead.

If in such a case, another auto were met coming in the opposite direction and keeping to the right, as it should according to the rules of the road and the plain dictates of safety, a head-on collision would be inevitable. When a passenger who wishes to avoid danger rides once behind such a driver, he is not likely to do so again. That kind of driving has caused several serious accidents already at the sharp curves on the Lawrence road, and it will cause more if the drivers persist in this reckless habit.

COTTON SUPPLY

The United States will need large supplies of cotton this year and next. France and other countries will also require more than the normal quantity of pre-war days. In face of this situation, the decision of the southern cotton farmers to hold their present crop until the price goes to 30 cents, and to reduce their 1919 cotton acreage by one-third, would be a most unwise proceeding. It would be on a par with burning the surplus crop to limit the supply and keep up prices, an expedient said to have been resorted to or threatened a few years ago. The adoption of the curtailment policy would seem to be a combination to control prices for which the Sherman anti-trust law provides a remedy.

BUSINESS SITUATION

In the following extract from the weekly letter of Henry Clews of New York, that writer presents the important phases of the industrial situation in a manner calculated to impress upon all the necessity of eagerness and co-operation during this period of reconstruction. His view as here expressed comes very

In merchandise circles there is still more or less hesitation, due to uncertainty regarding the future of prices and wages. Commodities generally are weak and declining. Metals and textiles, which include a very large proportion of domestic industry, are conspicuously lower, but as yet there is no evidence of their having reached a stable basis, and there has been no little uneasiness as to the large stocks of metals and raw and manufactured articles held by the government and others which must eventually come on the market at a heavy depreciation from war prices. It is true that shelves are bare, that buying power is large, but with such risks as that just noted buyers naturally hold about until satisfied that the bottom has been reached for the season at least. Manufacturers are also held back pending adjustment of wage disputes. Now that the cost of living has begun to decline, it is hoped such difficulties will become less acute. Not a few industrial concerns have reduced prices of their products to a level that eliminates all profit; while others are running upon exceedingly narrow margins, and a good many dividends have been reduced or passed, with others to follow. In some instances strong concern will be obliged to pay their taxes out of borrowed money. Such developments are part of the inevitable readjustment of business to a new basis. Capital has thus far made heavy sacrifices and is doing its full share in aiding adjustment to the new. It remains to be seen what labor will do toward helping the situation, either through concessions in wages or increases in the product; or whether it will stand pat and impede the attempt to reduce prices, from which it will be the greatest beneficiary. Unfortunately, labor is deceiving itself by standing in the way of natural developments, since very moderate concessions would give industry a fresh start, from which jobs to the unemployed would quickly follow.

SPITE ALLEGED

The National Security league came out of the congressional probe unscathed, despite the fact that it was threatened with prosecution for not having reported its expenditures under the Corrupt Practices act provided for political parties. The league says it is not in politics nor is it a political party.

In a statement in reference to the investigation President Rydecker of the league said:

"The attack of the committee was based upon a chart, published months before the election, which for accuracy in recording votes is unassailable. The votes selected were, when made, most accurate illustrations of mental bent, explainable possibly in some instances by party control, but none

A DISGRACEFUL ROAD

From New Hampshire to the sea, going down the Merrimack valley, there is no other such piece of bad road as First street, from the top of the hill to the Draught end of the state highway. It is rutted so that one would imagine it had been torn up by a great road plow and left to be softened by the weather in preparation for seeding in the spring. It is certainly a disgrace to the city at the present time. The least that should be done is to fill the ruts and holes with crushed stone that would take down into the mud and prevent the autos and other vehicles from sinking.

BUMPS

As the months and the years go by and we stop to take stock, we shall feel satisfaction or disappointment according as we find something accomplished or the record simply a blank.

The men who do things worth

while are those who are satisfied with life; those who waste time in idleness or frivolity will, in the end, have cause to regret their course.

Everybody will have bumps, some spiritual, some physical. But the important thing is to take them philosophically, bravely, and still keep going. The man or woman who stops to shed tears will get shoved to the side of the road by those coming up and who push on even while their eyes are blinded with tears.

Even after our worst bumps, let us remember Longfellow's advice in the "Psalm of Life."

"Let us then be up and doing
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,

SPITE ALLEGED

The National Security league came out of the congressional probe unscathed, despite the fact that it was threatened with prosecution for not having reported its expenditures under the Corrupt Practices act provided for political parties. The league says it is not in politics nor is it a political party.

In a statement in reference to the investigation President Rydecker of the league said:

"The attack of the committee was based upon a chart, published months before the election, which for accuracy in recording votes is unassailable. The votes selected were, when made, most accurate illustrations of mental bent, explainable possibly in some instances by party control, but none the less evidences which remain as the records of congress, made public in good faith, and within the rights of every citizen or association of citizens. Even the admission of the chart as evidence was opposed in the committee, although the attack was based upon it.

New York papers exulted with glee when they learned that the steam trawler Albatross, from Nova Scotia, was to reach the city on a certain day with 300,000 pounds of fresh fish such as cod and haddock. "We shall have plenty of cheap fish now," said they. The next day, however, the New York papers found fish was selling as high as ever. Fish bought for 8 and 10 cents a pound was sold at a profit averaging 66 per cent.

Everett W. Lord, federal director of labor for Massachusetts, in making an address at Salem, predicted that within six months contractors and others would be seriously embarrassed for the want of all kinds of help. Mr. Lord mentioned that 1,250,000 persons of foreign birth had applied to the department of state for passports. If they are all given passports, for goodness sake, can this mean that it will leave about a million jobs to be filled?

SEEN AND HEARD

Children are beginning to carry pussy willows home from school, and skip ropes, hoops and lops forecast the change of seasons.

No more will the state police be able to swoop down upon the old King Philip tavern in the wee small hours and "break up the party."

Did you ever think how fortunate people are who live in Florida and California and never have to worry about getting the ash barrels out?

Or cleaning the walks so the snow won't turn into slush? Or dashing down stairs to throw on a little more anthracite? Or putting on double windows? Oh, boy!

Why does Bill Bay State place white poles on one corner and then make a rule that a car must cross an intersecting street before coming to a stop? For instance—Broadway and School streets, east bound.

Officers on the U.S.S. George Washington were very considerate in not sounding the general alarm to abandon ship until 9 o'clock in the morning. As the president "escorted" Mrs. Wilson to their life boat, he "might" have been tipped off before hand.

Foregone Conclusion

"Do you think the fair defendant will be acquitted?"

"Well, the jurors look envious every time her lawyer whispers a word in her shell pink ear."

"Ah! In that case I won't wait to hear the verdict!"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

His Predicament

Teddy had the usual 9 o'clock sickness and did not have to go to school as a result. But at 10 o'clock he found that he had recovered and after dressing sought his mother in the kitchen. "I'm well, mother," he announced, "but I can't go to school till noon. You see it's too late now just to be counted tardy and too early to be counted absent!"—Indianapolis News.

Outwitted the Thief

Pat had been to an English fair and sold some cattle, with the result that he had a wallet containing more than $1000 in his breast-pocket. A well-known thief, getting to know this, insisted on taking him in tow even to the extent of sharing the room where Pat lodged.

"He got up before me in the morning," explained Pat in relating the occurrence, "and slipped away with my coat instead of his own."

"And is your money gone?" asked a friend.

"Not a penny of it," replied Pat. "Sure, didn't I slip it all into his coat pocket before I went to bed that night for safety sake?"—London Mail.

Such Is Fame

Two gentlemen, a lawyer and his friend, were recently motoring through Greenfield, Ind., the birthplace of James Whitcomb Riley. They stopped for luncheon and after the meal inquired of the hotel clerk:

"Where is the Riley house?"

"I don't know any hotel by that name," he replied, "although there may be some boarding house here."

"I mean the James Whitcomb Riley house," said the lawyer, thinking that the clerk had misunderstood him.

"I don't know him. You may be able to find his name in the city directory."

"I guess he's moved," said the lawyer.

Half a century ago, when the fame of Whittier the Quaker poet, was yet young, somewhat similar incident occurred in Amesbury, where he lived. A traveler, with a few hours to spare and a soul for poetry, strolled into a shop on the main street and asked for "the Whittier house." The obliging clerk shook his head.

"There's plenty of Whittiers in

"No, no," explained the visitor. "I'm not looking for a hotel; I want to find the house Whittier lives in."

"Which Whittier?" exploded the traveler, who was of peevish disposition. "The Whittier! I don't care whether the rest of the tribe live in Ballyhack or Amesbury!"

"They don't live in Ballyhack, and most of 'em do live in Amesbury, and I can direct you to any Whittier house you want to find," declared the aggravated clerk. "All is, don't try to handle. Just tell me which, and I'll tell you where. But if you won't so much as tell a fellow which Whittier you want, how's he to tell which house your Whittier lives in?"

"I want," said the traveler, "John Greenleaf Whittier, the poet."

"Oh!" remarked the clerk. "Him! Your poet is more over sideways considerable, and I thought most likely you were looking for Whittier, the shoemaker."—St. Louis Republic.

Paying With a Grin

Of course you've been contorting with your income tax return; You've said some things about it almost hot enough to burn. I've said the same as you said and I'm making no apology; I think tax-laws are drawn at instance of a lawyer's tongue! But remembering that the Huns were licked and taxes helped us win, I'm going to pay my income tax and pay it with a grin.

Yes, I could go to Washington and tell these simple folks it hurts to pay a tax that takes the silver off the spoons. It's hard to make the children play the same old game of "fifteen." When all their born instincts are asserting rights to movies. But when I think of Uncle Sam and how he's sent us to the front, I'm going to pay my income tax and pay it with a grin.

Why, it was only yesterday a chap who looked like me Was standing up and whooping like a loaded Cherokee. Was sending curses to Heaven, almost thick enough to dim it. That we were all behind the line to back it to the limit. Was threatening some fellow called "the Kaiser" in Berlin. Oh, yes, I'll pay my income tax and pay it with a grin.

The war is won and some have paid who cast the dice with death. An eye grown dim, a severed limb, perhaps a last, lost breath. And I, who have some senses left, and each limb in its socket. Shall I split base around the place because I scruple my pocket? The Hun is done, but had he won, I think what might have been: I'll pay my income tax and pay it with a grin. (Tag)—If you put up a "holier" for war, don't un-can it now. —Edmund Vance Cooke.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

About the nicest compliment we have heard visitors to Lowell make in regard to the city's hospitality, was in connection with the visit to this city one afternoon last week of a party of 10 soldiers from Camp Devens' base hospital. The K. of C. war camp service within a short time has come into possession of two good limousine touring automobiles which have been sent to Camp Devens and by the K. of C. organization there, turned over to the authorities in charge of the base hospital to be used to take returned wounded soldiers out for airings and health giving rides.

The party of ten soldiers of whom we speak, came to Lowell and were brought, among other places visited, to the K. of C. headquarters in As-sociate building. Here they found themselves in a congenial atmosphere and they were shown what the local organization, through its executive officers and War Camp Secretary Sampson, was accomplishing for the good of soldiers visiting here from Camp Devens. This party was taken to a number of other places and became acquainted with a number of patriotic Lowell people known to be particularly friendly to all soldier boys. The compliment I speak of came at the end of the afternoon, along about time for the return trip to the base hospital to be started. "This town is immense," said practically all the wounded men. "There is nothing better for us anywhere than what we have been given in Lowell this afternoon—real friendship and kindness. Lowell is a good old town and we wish we could stay on here."

Many Lowell people were of course saddened by hearing the news last Friday that Daniel J. Donovan, veteran marketman of the city, had passed away. Of this number none were more and than Mr. John H. Corbett of this city. There was a time, some years ago, when in particular, four Lowell marketmen were especially prominent in the business of conducting markets. There were: Daniel J.

Donovan, John F. Saunders, John Keefe and John H. Corbett. It is true that they were energetic and active rivals of each other in the market business, often times cutting prices and doing all sorts of enterprising things to see if a majority of the trade of the city's housewives could be secured for one market, but when the four of them met at the Middlesex street railroad station, regularly and punctually at a certain time every Thursday noon, as was their habit, this business animosity was wholly forgotten. They for years made it a practice to enjoy a weekly luncheon together at a favorite Boston hotel and none better than these four knew if the meat served was what it ought to be. After the luncheon they had a habit of visiting all the big beef wholesale houses with which they did business, inspecting the stock and giving orders for the Friday and Saturday business in meat. I am told that they got chances to take in ball games often in the summer and an occasional show in winter. The best of good fellowship and friendship ruled and was long continued. All these men were substantial men in the community. Of the number none is now alive except Mr. Corbett.

LOWELL Y.W.C.A. GYM TEAMS SPLIT EVEN

The Lowell Y.W.C.A. first team defeated the Andover Guild at basketball in the local gym Saturday night, 21 to 8, while the second team lost to Andover Seconds, 12 to 6. The pair of games furnished more action than all the other of the year put together and a capacity crowd was kept in an uproar throughout. The guards in the first team were instrumental in putting Lowell to victory as they most effectively smothered all Andover attempts to break away for a prolonged period.

"TEMPTATION"

A POWERFUL TREATISE ON THE SCIENCE OF EUGENICS

DIRECT FROM A ONE WEEK ENGAGEMENT AT THE LAWRENCE OPERA HOUSE, LAWRENCE, MASS.

The Eternal Combat

A man cannot be released from the duties of a father even if he travels around the world. A kingdom can be given and taken, but not fatherhood.

THE LAW OF EUGENICS

Who is the man your daughter is going to marry? Do not judge him by his money, his earning capacity, or his character and fitness to be your daughter's husband. When we have a fatherhood, physically, mentally and morally qualified to produce an improved race, then the tendency to weakness and immorality will pass into oblivion.

An Appeal to Manhood

Eugenics claims the attention of the deepest thinkers and it has achieved the supreme popularity of mention. Evidently it has come to stay.

THERE IS NO EVIL UNLESS YOU THINK EVIL

A Supreme Motion Picture Play for the Clergy, the Teacher, the Thinker. It's for You. See it. It's More Powerful than All the Sermons Put Together. Not a Series of Disgusting Slum Scenes, or Smut, but a splendid Presentation of High Class Art, a Study of Eugenics. It's an Educating Picture.

A SERIOUS PLAY

The play is a serious one for serious minds. It contains none of the slum scenes or so-called vice scenes. One of the really beautiful views of this picture is of a dream garden where youth faces beauty, sweetness, innocence and purity.

MEXICO CITY, March 10.—The announcement that Jack Johnson was scheduled to fight at Mexico City, was met today by an announcement that the government of the federal district had requested the municipal authorities to refuse to grant licenses for boxing matches because previous contests have been of such an unsportsmanlike nature as to cause disorder. It is expected that the municipal authorities will accede to the request of the federal district authorities.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, March 10.—Play began here today in the 12th annual national women's indoor tennis tournament. In the absence of Miss Nina Hurd, the title holder, Mrs. Geo. H. Whitman of Boston is favored to succeed to the championship. Others mentioned as probable contenders in the finals include Miss Marion Zinderstein of Boston; Mrs. Homer S. Green; Miss Clara Cappel and Mrs. H. H. Morse, running in 1917. This two-day tournament is the first of the season and is expected to attract a large crowd for decision today. Play in the doubles will begin tomorrow.

DE FOE AND HAYES TO MEET AT C.A.A.

The signing of Billy De Foe to appear at the Crescent A. A. this week will be the pleasing news. Local devotees of the boxing game. The great exhibition he put up against Al Shubert a week ago, brought him a host of friends and all expressed a desire to see him again in action. He's a very aggressive, hard-hitting exponent of the manly art, and always given his opponent a tussle. His great record has placed him in demand throughout New England, and many have made it difficult in securing capable opponents to use him. Many who express a desire to box, sidestep when De Foe's name is mentioned. But the manager of the local club has succeeded in signing up John Hayes of New York, a boy whose record is all wool and a yard wide. He has tackled all the good ones, and has a long string of victories to his credit.

Joe Armstrong of Lowell and Dan Donovan of Cambridge, who boxed a thrilling bout here early in the season are scheduled to appear in the semi-final.

"THE LIBERATOR"

A 12-Episode Serial, STARRING GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO'S SENSATIONAL

MACISTE

THE LIBERATOR is "The Big Fellow's" newest starring vehicle, and is offered in installments of two reels each, covering a period of twelve weeks.

More than a year was spent in producing the
"Liberator." The actual cash outlay involved in the picture would cover the total cost of five of the average
serials on the market today. The producers of THE LIBERATOR for Mr. Harry Raver, have never spared
time or expense to outdo other producers. They made
the first film-spectacle, "The Fall of Troy," nine years
ago, and are famous for the invention of the new effects
and illusions which other producers have so eagerly
adapted in subsequent films.

"Maciste" is always in conflict of one kind or another.
startling situations, supplies many a laugh when best
needed; there is romance and mystery aplenty and
"MACISTE" is at his best from main title to trailer.
Massive interior settings erected at a cost staggering to
the average producer lend dignity and beauty to the atmosphere of the story. In short, THE LIBERATOR is
the biggest sort of entertainment, coupled-up with The Biggest Sort of a Star, whose creator, Gabriele d'An-

LOWELL'S NEAR-EAST RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Lowell's near east relief campaign
came to a close Saturday night with $25,510.31 of the $12,000 quota for the district subscribed. Of this amount
the city proper turned in $15,522.71,
while the towns contributed $8975.60.
The local committee, while regretting
that the full quota could not be secured, feel that every means possible
had run its race.

The prize of a Seth Thomas vestry
clock for the parish team turning in
the largest amount of money was won
by the First Congregational church,
which had a total of $2205.89. Two
towns oversubscribed their quotas—
Draught and Reading. The final push
was obtained in Reading by the members of Co. E, Sixteenth Infantry, M.S.
Co., who instituted a house-to-house cavanss in the town. Draught more than doubled its quota.

NEW POLICE COURT CLERK ON DECK

William J. Carroll, who was recently
appointed assistant clerk of the local
police court by Clerk Edward W. Trull,
assumed his new duties this morning
and was given a cordial welcome by
his brother lawyers.

Mr. Carroll formerly maintained a
law office in this city, but ten months
ago he removed to Washington, D. C.,
after receiving an appointment in the
treasury department as a revenue agent
for the federal estate tax. A few months later he was transferred to the Springfield, Ill., district, and made his home in Champagne, Ill. His district comprised the entire State of Illinois,
Iowa and Missouri.

When the young man received the
news of his appointment to the position of assistant clerk of the local police court, he tendered his resignation
to the federal government but it was
not accepted. He was offered the
privilege of being transferred to the Boston district which include Maine,
Massachusetts, New Hampshire and
Vermont, but he declined the offer,
preferring to return to Lowell. He was given a leave of absence of 15 days,
however, to reconsider his resignation,
but he stated this morning that he
had made up his mind to accept the
position of assistant clerk of the police
court.

RAID ON HOUSE IN AYER DISCLOSES BIGAMISTS

CAMP DEVENS, March 10.—An amazing tale of three triple marriages without it is alleged, any of the trio involved having obtained a divorce from their several wives and husbands, was revealed here yesterday by department of justice and military officials.

The disclosures came as a result of the raid Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Henry Stone (alias Mrs. Grace Taylor), on the Harvard road, about a mile and a half from this cantonment.

The raid was made after many complaints had been received that the house was being used as a rendezvous for soldiers from this cantonment. Li- quor was sold, it is charged, and other improper actions were indulged in.

Soldiers were allowed a "charge account" until pay day. The raid was made by E. K. Pond, special agent of the department of justice, military officials, Chief Patrick Beatty of the Ayer police, Lieutenant Hannibal Hamlin of the Law Enforcement league, with a detail of soldiers and police officers. Three arrests were made.

Mrs. Henry Stone (alias Mrs. G. Taylor) and Mrs. Vivian Lestley (Vivian Wright) are at the East Cambridge jail waiting appearance before the federal grand jury at Boston.

Andrew H. Lestley, who Mrs. Lestley claims is her third husband, is in the guardhouse here facing court-martial on a charge of bigamy. Military officials claim that he has confessed to having been married three times and never divorced. All his wives are said to be living.

Both the women have also admitted to having been married three times, according to statements of the pair in the hands of the department of justice here. And, according to their statements made in the presence of the arresting officials and which are to be presented to the court, neither of them has ever obtained any divorce or divorces. One of the three husbands of the Lestley woman is said to have died in the service at Camp Dix last fall. The last husband of the Stone-Taylor woman is serving a term at the United States army prison at Camp Jay, after conviction on a charge of defrauding the government by fraudulent allotment.

The sensation which the disclosure has caused was amplified last night when it was learned that Lestley and his "wife" lived as "Mr. and Mrs. Lestley" at the home of Superintendent of Schools Frank C. Johnson in the town of Ayer. They were about socially at many Ayer functions. This before they went through a marriage ceremony on Sept. 10, 1918.

A weird matrimonial tangle was never uncovered say the officers investigating the case and the disclosures already in hand for presentation to the federal court and to the military court-martial are but partial ones, they say.

Police Court News Continued

officer's successful debut as a "camoufleur" yesterday afternoon. Dressed in a black suit, with a high collar and flowing black tie, and sporting a black mustache and gold rimmed glasses, the officer accompanied by a woman from the Social Service league, made his way past the keen eyed "lookout" on watch at the foot of the stairs in a Merrimack street building, and went

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW

During these days how many children are complaining of headache, feverishness, stomach troubles and irregular bowels. If mothers only knew what Mother Gray's Sweet Powders would do for their children no family would ever be without them. These powders are so easy and pleasant to take and so effective in their action that mothers who once use them always tell other mothers about them. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

up to the room above where the alleged game was going on. The officer gently opened the door, and the men inside scattered and ran for the stairs leading to the bottom and safety. But Lieut. Petrie, who had prepared for just such an emergency, met the crowd at the bottom of the stairs, and with the assistance of five members of the vice squad, persuaded them that in this instance discretion was the better part of valor, and they were accordingly escorted to the station.

A plea of guilty was entered by all of the defendants, and fines of $5 each were imposed by Judge Enright. The names given by those arraigned were: Edward B. Currier, William J. Egan, George P. Howe, Joseph Maloney, Joseph Cohen, George Wier, John Williams, James McCarthy, John Donnelly, Norman Richards, John Riley and Edward Denton.

Entertained in Cellar

"I just drank two bottles of Jamaica ginger for my sore throat," was the defense of Anita Saylor, who was arraigned on a charge of drunkenness this morning. The arresting officer testified that Anita was entertaining two doughboys at the time of her arrest, but that instead of holding forth in the parlor as is considered customary in such cases Anita conceived the original idea of receiving her company in the cellar. The soldiers did not stop to talk with the representative of the law, and made their escape through a window. Anita was found guilty and sentenced to the woman's reformatory at Sherburne.

Very Hated of Tony

Antonio Gonzalez and Domingos De Agrella were wending their way peacefully homeward Saturday afternoon, and stopped for a moment in a Moody street thirt store to drink each other's health. Tony seemed to feel aggrieved over something after leaving the saloon, and finally gave vent to his anger by squaring off and bawling his right fist off Domingos' jaw. When the arresting officer appeared on the scene, the honors were about even, and after announcing the bout a draw, the pair were taken to the station and charged with drunkenness and also with disturbing the peace.

They both appeared before Judge Enright this morning, and appeared to cherish no hard feelings over their fracas of Saturday. The court found them each guilty, and they were ordered to pay fines of $10.

Good Samaritan "Gyped"

Peter Fahy was charged with the larceny of $1.25 from William Weston. Weston told the court that Saturday evening he met defendant, and allowed him to come up to his room and bunk with him for the night. About 2 o'clock Peter woke him up and asked for the loan of a razor so he could shave himself in anticipation of the coming Sabbath. His request was granted and Weston drifted back to slumberland without giving the rather unusual incident further thought. In the morning he was surprised and grieved to find not only his hunkie but all of his small change missing.

Fahy failed to give a satisfactory explanation of his actions on the night in question and was ordered to pay a fine of $10.

Caught in Raid

Six men were arraigned on a charge of being present at a game on the Lord's day as the result of a raid by the police on a house in upper Moody street early Sunday morning. They were John Sabino, Adulardo Ganges, John Carleton, Julie Medonas, John Silva and Frank Silva. Fines of $5 each were imposed.

John Lavery, who hails from Manchester, N. H., was present on a complaint charging him with drunkenness. John stated that he had merely come down to the City of Spindlers to visit a sick friend. As this is the third time that the "sick friend" has been the cause of John's falling off the water wagon, he was given a suspended sentence of three months in jail, and as- sured that the next time he graces the local court the suspension will be revoked.

An Ounce of Sincerity Is Worth Tons of Cleverness

Selling reliable merchandise at a profit 10 to 15 per cent less than the average store asks is not clever. But it is a sincere effort to make sure that Chalifoux prices are lowest. We cannot buy for less than other stores, but we can buy for as little because we pay cash and take every discount and every advantage. But we can sell for less than other stores if we desire. And we have adopted the policy of marking everything on a basis of 10 to 15 per cent less than the average.

Our Merchant Ships, For First Time Since "Clipper," Sail To All Parts of World

WASHINGTON, March 10.—For the first time since the days of the famous "clipper" ships, American merchant craft now are plying the seven seas, carrying products of the United States to the farthest corners of the earth and bringing home both essentials and luxuries.

The shipping board announced yesterday that the American merchant marine fleet built up under the spur of war's necessity now represented nearly

one-fifth of the entire sea-going tonnage of the world and comprised 46 per cent of all ships clearing from United States ports, as compared with 37 per cent before the great war.

Trade routes not traversed by American craft for more than 50 years once more are invaded, with new routes established to China, Australia, New Zealand, India, the Dutch East Indies, the west coast of Africa and ports on the Mediterranean. Ships flying the Stars and Stripes also are running regularly to South America, Great Britain and continental Europe, as well as to Canada and Mexico.

The fleet now engaged in overseas consists of 351 of the freighters, 94 freight and passenger vessels; 71 oil tankers; 230 sailing vessels; and 16 miscellaneous ships, aggregating 1,961,239 gross tons. Of this total 406,528 gross tons are employed in transatlantic trade; 315,929 tons in transpacific trade; 402,721 tons in South American trade; 761,252 tons in Caribbean and Mexican trade, and 76,010 tons in Alaska and Canadian trade.

When the army and navy return to the shipping board the 351 ships which they are operating, the commercial fleet under the American flag, will be increased by 1,573,251 gross tons, making the total 3,534,490 gross tons, with many hundreds of thousands of tons building or under contract.

The case of Ralph B. Palmer, charged with larceny of an automobile owned by Thomas Hennessey on Sept. 1, last, was continued until next Monday.

Twenty-nine men of foreign tongue, representing the result of a wholesale raid on Jan. 17, at a coffee house at 129 Market street, were called on a blanket charge of being present where gaming implements were found. They were haled before the bench only after some difficulty and were at last lined up in one, long file to plead guilty. Each was ordered to pay a fine of $5, thus enriching the county in the sum of $145.

Another group of foreign-tongued gentlemen, this time in the form of a sextette, were called on the charge of being present where gaming implements were found. They pleaded guilty and each was ordered to pay a fine of $5. Three others were fined $5 each.

Myer Stole, Manuel Perry and Max Wolff pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking, entering and larceny. The cases were held until 2 o'clock for sentence.

James J. Connell was charged with violating the state automobile laws by operating a machine while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded not guilty and was ordered to pay a fine of $10.

Alfred Daniel, Joseph Lamont and Augustus Marlen, were called. Daniel pleaded not guilty on the charge of breaking, entering and larceny on February 20 at the camp of Gordon C. Kirby at Chelmsford. Lamont and Marlen also pleaded not guilty on the same charge. The larceny charge included the theft of a clock, provisions, dumb bells and clothes. Daniel then changed his plea of larceny to guilty.

Lamont and Marlen also changed their pleas of breaking and entering to guilty.

Superintendent of Police Richmond Welch was called to testify and told the story of the breaks.

District Attorney Tufts asked that a substantial sentence be imposed in the case of Alfred Daniel, who is already on probation, and the court sentenced him to four months at hard labor in the Lowell jail. This sentence was then revoked, and Daniel, Lamont

and Marlen were each sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Joseph Hachez and Felix Garneau were called on a charge of breaking, entering and receiving. Hachez pleaded not guilty in three counts of larceny at the camps of Fred S. Kingsbury, Samuel Greathead and Henry A. Turcotte on February 17, 1919. Garneau pleaded guilty on the same counts.

The cases were then brought to trial and the following jurors were drawn: Eldores A. Castner, Fred S. Hall, Alfred W. Anderson, David A. Casey, Arnold J. Laurie, Joseph H. McLaughlin, Robert Catherwood, Michael J. Gray, John C. Trohey, William A. Meenan, Charles F. Coburn and John P. French. Mr. Coburn was appointed foreman.

Myer Stoleff and Manuel Perry, who earlier in the session had pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny, were each fined $50, and Max Wolff, who also pleaded guilty on a similar charge, was fined $100.

The indictments against Joseph Hachez and Felix Garneau contained the alleged larceny of clothes, photograph records, shoes, razors, sweaters, canned goods, rifle, cards, etc.

Henry A. Turcotte, Samuel Greathead and Fred S. Kingsbury were called in turn to testify for the government. Each told of the condition of his camp as it appeared on a visit after the alleged breaks.

Reinhold Welch testified that Hachez admitted to him that he had broken into one cottage on the banks of the Merrimack river, but that he did not know who owned it.

SAY BORAH'S PROMISES ARE NO GOOD

BOSTON, March 10.—"You don't want to take any stock in Senator Borah's promises," said Miss Mabel Vernon at the "Prison Special" mass meeting of the women suffragists in the Wilbur Theatre last evening. "We know him and we know what his promises amount to. He has gone back on all the promises he ever made us."

Thus was the United States senator from Idaho branded as a sort of "gray deceiver" with women suffragists by one of the handsomest and most prominent of the women in the national woman's party. Yet, emphatic as was the statement it did not produce a very great sensation with the big audience largely because of the fact that Miss Foley had just told how she and several other women had been fooled by the silver-tongued senator from the northwestern state.

She and these other young women had made an appointment with him at the Touraine for 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon. They were "on deck," but he was not. He had left for Washington a quarter of an hour before.

The sting in the disappointment came from the fact that these young women had seen the senator the evening before and had asked him why the United States senate had turned down the woman suffrage amendment.

He assured them that that matter had been all fixed, that the necessary vote had been secured, and that at the next session of congress the first thing the senate proposed to do was take up the woman suffrage amendment and pass it. Then it was that he made the appointment for 10 o'clock in the forenoon of yesterday at the Hotel Touraine, which he evidently forgot.

Miss Vernon intimated that that was a habit the senator had and she told of specific instances of promises made to the woman suffragists which he subsequently ignored or forgot all about.

HAROLD VARNUM DEAD

Well Known Lawyer Passed Away at His Home in Varnum Avenue

In the death of Harold A. Varnum, which occurred Sunday morning at his home, 59 Varnum avenue, Lowell loses one of her finest types of young men, a member of the Lowell bar and an active city solicitor. His age was 39 years.

Harold Abbott Varnum was born in Lowell, March 1, 1880, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson C. Varnum.

HAROLD A. VARNUM

He was graduated from the high school in 1899 and immediately entered Amherst college, from which he was graduated in the class of 1903. His scholastic attainments were most noteworthy and he was prominently identified with athletics, especially football. He studied law at Harvard university and obtained his degree in 1906. He then entered the office of the law firm of Richardson, Trull & Wier, where he remained for some time until he established an office of his own. On Feb. 15, 1916, he was elected city solicitor and conducted this office with honor and efficiency until he resigned.

In January, 1917, he also at one time held the chairmanship of the republican city committee. Although in failing health when he left the office of city solicitor he continued to practice for some months until compelled to abandon all active work. Blessed with an apparently vigorous body during his younger years, his failing health seemed doubly sad to his friends, who had anticipated for him a life of activity and splendid achievement, and his death brings deep sorrow to hundreds of men and women.

Mr. Varnum always had attended the Pawtucket Congregational church and took an active part in its affairs. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Atkinson C. Varnum, and one brother, Arthur C. Varnum.

HEARING IN BILLERICA

The board of selectmen of Billerica have set Monday evening, March 17, as the date for the hearing with reference to the recent changes in the zone limit on the Woburn line of the Bay State Street Railway Co. in the vicinity of Pinehurst. The hearing will be a result of the change that was made by the railway officials after the new zone limit was established in that locality. The fare limit was at Pinehurst park, but it appears that on a request of patrons of the road in the vicinity of the Riverdale district the line was changed to the Allen road, nearly a third of a mile north of the original fare limit. There was considerable objection to the new zone and as a result the railway officials have decided to let the selectmen settle the matter and set the fare limit and hence the hearing.

Kirk of Company M of the Old Ninth regiment entertained the members of the local Machinists' union at their regular monthly smoker, which was held Friday night, with an interesting talk on the experiences of his company in France. Musical and literary numbers were given by Commissioner James E. Donnelly, Edward Donoghue, Francis A. Connor, Patrick Nevins, Paul Angelo and James Daly. The program was brought to a close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly. The affair was in charge of the following committee: John Carroll, Parker Murphy, Joseph Jordan, Joseph Lannon, Peter Gillick and John Garraghan.
